Tony La Russa's Animal Rescue Foundation Presents Shelter Wellness Conference

WALNUT CREEK, California – February 15, 2007 – Please join Tony La Russa's Animal Rescue Foundation (ARF) at its third annual The Business of Saving Lives conference. This two-day conference offers informative workshops on animal behavior, shelter wellness and practical business applications. The conference will be held Saturday-Sunday, March 10-11, 2007 at ARF's Walnut Creek shelter.

The Business of Saving Lives is a must attend for individuals already working in the animal welfare industry or those interested in a life-saving career. Sessions provide attendees with practical information and tools for promoting community awareness, fundraising and attracting community support. Clinics are presented by experienced and knowledgeable leaders from the shelter field, including ASPCA's Dr. Emily Weiss, and Dr. Barb Jones and Dr. Tess Kommedal, Koret Shelter Medicine residents from University of California at Davis, School of Veterinary Medicine.

Hurry! Space is limited for this exciting weekend and drop-ins are not accepted. For additional information on The Business of Saving Lives and to pre-register for this conference, please visit http://www.arf.net/About_ARF/Events/ShelterConference.html.

ARF saves the lives of loving dogs and cats who have run out of time at public shelters. ARF gives another chance at life to dogs and cats who otherwise would have been killed. ARF provides the care and attention they need, including spay or neuter surgery, until ARF finds them a new home of their own.

ARF's People Connect programs strengthen the human animal bond for the elderly, residents of assisted living centers, teens at juvenile hall, high school students, grade school students and young children through programs that are national models of excellence. ARF programs allow people to experience the unconditional love and acceptance of dogs and cats. People rescuing animals...animals rescuing people...™.
